There are many types of artists

Visual and Performing artists

Scientists

Mathematics

Anyone who makes a statement in what they love... is an artist-

Artists can use their art for the better or for the worst

Not afraid of trying new things

Or being silly...

They use their talents to change the world.

They express themselves to make a statement

“I’m gonna show you how great I am”

They create peace within themselves

They are the dreamers
